Chamber Announces Call for Nominations for Citizen of the Year

Nominations forms due December 12, 2008

Glenwood Springs, CO – Locals are invited to thank the most noteworthy fellow citizen of 2008 through the Glenwood Springs Chamber Resort Association's Citizen of the Year Award.

Nominations for the Citizen of the Year Award for 2008 are now being accepted. The award is intended to honor an individual who makes a substantial contribution to Glenwood Springs. As a result of the nominee's efforts, the community receives notable benefits and becomes a better place to live and work.

All nominees should be involved in active civic participation in the areas of health or human services, education, recreation, arts or cultural improvements, economic development, or community based organizations that contribute to the quality of life in the community.

Nominations may be submitted by anyone in the community and are encouraged from all clubs and organizations. Nominees will be judged in all categories on the basis of community involvement and leadership. The winning citizen of 2008 will be announced at the chamber's Annual Ball and Auction scheduled for January 31, 2009.

Previous active community members who have been named citizen of the year have come from all walks of life, including: Steve and Jeanne Beckley, Jim and Mary Nelson, Bob Young, Mary Steinbrecher, Bob Zanella, Don Vanderhoof, Tillie Fischer, Hank Bosco, John Martin, Emmy Neil, Gen Doak, and Dr. Carter and Mrs. Louise Jackson. Last year's recipient was William Slattery.

Nomination forms are posted on the chamber website at glenwoodchamber.com/citizenoftheyear and must be submitted by December 12.
